

APICERONIC

LITTLE BEINGS

APICERONIC

LITTLE BEINGS

Lessons from the story:

- Little creatures reveal themselves to us if we show great respect for nature and our heritage and unveil our innate talents if we show ourselves worthy of them; sustainable development is one of the story's great lessons. Throughout the ages, the First Peoples have developed knowledge and know-how by carefully observing nature and its living creatures. This profound respect for nature is echoed in every facet of their culture. They consistently strive to minimize their impact on the environment, taking only what they need and making the most of available resources. With regard to hunting, for example, every part of the killed animal is used: bones, fur, meat and the like. There is no waste.
- Spiritual foundation

APICERONIC

LITTLE BEINGS

APICERONIC

LITTLE BEINGS

Kiskeritamotariwewina :

- E ki otitikowiik apicerinick kecpin kicteritamok notcimiw pimatisiwin kaie misiwe aski kirika ki ka wi caweritakosinano kecpin e wapatahakok kicteritcikwin, ka kicteritcikatek e matcitaniwok aski ekon aneweh kitci kiskinorowewin atisokanik. Ka ki pe pipok, nehirowisiwok ki kiskeritamok e matcetatic o kiskinorowewinawaw ta e icinokok notcimi aski kaie ka pimatisitci. Anaweh sokikicteritcikewin otci aski nakoniw kaskina otitorosowinawak. Kaie wi wa aitotamok kitci weka onatcitasotcik e kanawapatikik kekwariw tepirak ke kictapatcitatcik notcimiw ka kicatcicteki. Mitiwi, e natohonaniwok, ka ki nipatatic awesiriw misiwe apatcihewakopan eka onahatcatcik : oskana, ahiwin, wiias kaie kotakihi.
- Kiskinorowe tapweritamowina.